Generation No. 1

1. JOHN⁵ HUGH (HUGH CADWALLADER⁴ RHYS, CADWALADER AP RHYS AP³ MAREDYDD, RHYS AP², MAREDYDD AP TUDUR OF¹ VOELAS) was born Jan 10, 1652/53 in Merionethshire, North Wales, and died Oct 10, 1736 in Exeter Meeting House, Philadelphia County (Berks) PA. He married (1) GWENA CADWALADER Feb 03, 1675/76 in Llanfor Parish, Penllyn, Merionethshire, Wales. She was born Unknown, and died Unknown. He married (2) ELLIN WILLIAMS Dec 12, 1716 in Radnor Meeting House, Haverford, daughter of WILLIAM EDWARDS. She was born Abt. 1691, and died Unknown.

Notes for JOHN HUGH:

We were fortunate indeed, during May of 1998, to have the opportunity to examine the Bishops Transcripts for the Diocese of St. Asph, Parish of Llanfor for the years 1666 to 1722. It was quite exciting to handle the original parchment pieces, with faded brown ink, which were written in Latin. In order to put the information on record, the entries of interest follow:

Johnannes Hughes married Gwena Cadwalader 3 February 1676

Baptized Gaynora, daughter of Johnannes Hughes, 24 March 1681

Maria, daughter of John Hugh, buried 29 Auust 1682

Jana, daughter of John Hughes, baptized June 1683

Hugo, son of John Huh of Rhywadog, baptized 30 November 1684

Gainor of Kitalgarth buried 3 October 1686

Eliceus, son of John Hugh of Ucheldref, baptized 2 October 1688

Hornicus, son of John Hugh of Rhywadog, born 15 June and baptized 16 June 1690

A good deal of additional information exist about John Hughes. He settled in Oley in 1731, arriving with his son, Ellis Hughes, from Gwynedd.

A couple of things you may know, but it doesn't hurt to be redundant.

1. In Wales, you were not a free man in the old days unless you could prove your ancestry for seven generations. This led to rather accurate chains of ancestry.

2. A researcher in Wales (Peter Bartrum) first published an eight volume set "Welsh Genealogies" of these chains of ancestry covering the period from 300 AD until 1400 AD. He then published a follow-on eighteen volume set covering 1400 until 1500 AD. At the Foulke reunion in 1998 there was a representative of the British heraldry group that verifies ancestry for the peerage, and he said that they use Bartrum's volumes as a reliable source for ancestry. I have access to these volumes at the Cornell Libraries.

3. John Hugh and Edward Foulke both brought with them enough information about their ancestry so that there are multiple connections into the Bartrum volumes.

Notes for GWENA CADWALADER:

Some Hughes' researchers are convinced that Martha Caimot was John Hugh's first wife. In reviewing some of the sources for this work, reference is made to 'his wife Martha'.

From Lloyd D. Ellis (LEllis148@aol.com): The name Caimot cannot be found in the UK. In writing the name, the scribe probably wrote the name wrong. I believe it to have been

GARMON as this is a historic name (from Germanus of Auxerre) and a Capel Garmon is only a few miles north of Ysbyty Ifan, where Martha and John Hugh were married, ca. 1680

From "John Hughes and My Other Quaker Ancestors 1698-1998, by Dessa T. Cassens, Gateway Press, Inc., 2001

Dessa is convinced that John's first wife was Gwena Cadwalader. She does not know how Martha Caimot fits.

3. ELLIS⁶ HUGH (JOHN⁵, HUGH CADWALLADER⁴ RHYS, CADWALADER AP RHYS AP³ MAREDYDD, RHYS AP², MAREDYDD AP TUDUR OF¹ VOELAS) was born Jan 10, 1687/88 in Caernarvon, Conway, Wales, and died Jan 11, 1764 in Oley Township, Berks, PA. He married JANE FOULKE Apr 05, 1713 in Gwynedd, Montgomery, PA, daughter of EDWARD FOULKE and ELEANOR HUGH. She was born Nov 10, 1684 in Merionethshire, Wales, and died Oct 07, 1766 in Oley Township, Berks, PA.

Notes for ELLIS HUGH:

Historical Collections Relating to Gwynedd, by Howard M. Jenkins, of Gwynedd, Second Edition. [Source #12]

Jane Foulke, married Ellis Hugh (Hughes), son of John Hugh, of Gwynedd. They removed to Oley, now Berks County. "From them are descended the numerous families of that name spread through Oley, Exeter, Maiden creek, and the settlements on the north branch of the Susquehanna.

Jane died 8th mo. 7, 1766, at the home of her son-in-law, Samuel Lee, in Oley. She had been "an Elder of Exeter m.m. for about thirty years. Her husband, Ellis, b. 1687, d. 1st Mo. 11, 1764. Exeter records show the following children of this couple:

John, b. 3d mo. 19, 1714. Married Hannah Boone

William, b. 1716, m. Amy Willits

Rowland, b. 1720, d. 1728, unm

Samuel, b. 1722, d. 1796, m. Elizabeth Willits

Margaret May

Edward b. 1724, d. 1791. m. Elizabeth ?

Margaret, b. 1726. d. 1810. Married Samuel Lee.

Generation Two, Immigrant Ellis was born in Wales in 1687 and was either 12 or 13 years old when he traveled with his family on the

Robert and Elizabeth to Pennsylvania. Ellis was John Hugh's third child, following Jane (1683) and Rowland (1685). Ellis married Jane Foulke in August 1713 while still living at Gwynedd. Jane Foulke, who was three years older than Ellis, came from the same area (Gwynedd) of Wales and also had migrated on the 1698 voyage of the Robert and Elizabeth. (8) Ellis and Jane had seven children. The third, a daughter, apparently died at birth and remained un-named. Ellis died in 1764 at age 76 or 77 and Jane followed two years later at age 81.

In the Oley Valley, Ellis clearly made his living by farming and operating his sawmill, but he appears to have been more prominent for his leadership role in the local Exeter Society of Friends. Records indicate that Ellis was instrumental in the success of the Society of Friend's Exeter Meeting (located in Oley Valley) during the middle 18th century. He was characterized as the most prominent minister, or "Weightiest Friend" in Quaker terms. His memorialist wrote of him that he embodied the Quaker ideal of charity, commitment, and effort. A many-paragraphed commemoration in Quaker records uses phrases such as "good example," "meek and loving," "instructively cheerful," "affectionate husband," "tender parent," and "kind master."

At the same time, he was "...a lover of good order in the church, and well knew the dangerous tendency of undue liberty." This referred to the Quaker code that held members to account for misconduct. Ellis, for example probably participated in deliberations regarding one of his own sons, William, who was dismissed from Exeter Meeting membership in 1754, after three disciplinary episodes due to his excessive proclivity to drink.

That Ellis Hughes was the "Weightiest Friend" meant, in my judgment, that he was an important leader in the Exeter Friends, Oley Valley, Pennsylvania community during the apex of Quaker influence in Pennsylvania and in America. At the time, religion was almost indistinguishable from government.

Ellis took ill, according to Quaker records, at the 1764 funeral of his son (and our next ancestor), John, and died eleven days later. Quaker records list them both as being buried in the Exeter Meeting burial ground.

Memorial service held Jan 31, 1765.

The Will abstract:

"Ellis Hugh, Formerly Oley, now Exeter, date Jan.5, 1764, probate Jan. 27, 1764. Provides for wife Jane. To son Samuel plantation and saw mill etc. whereon he lives in Exeter containing 162 acres 54 perches. To son Edward plantation etc. where he lives containing 96 acres 38 perches. To grandson George Hugh, son of John, deceased plantation etc. where my son lately lived containing 52 acres 22 perches, he allowing his mother Martha Hugh 1/3 of the profits during her life. To Margaret wife of Samuel Lee L5, having been advanced. Son-in-law Samuel Lee and sons Samuel and Edward executors. Codicil -- same date, gives to son William and revokes legacy of land to grandson George Hugh, and gives it to all the children of son John, vis: George, Jane, Eleanor, and Samuel, allowing George two shares. Letters to Samuel and Edward Hugh. Witness Jesse Willets, William Boone, James Starr, and Abel Thomas."

In this, grandson George Hugh was, of course, our next ancestor. He would have been 20 (almost 21) years old at the time of Ellis's death in 1764. He is the one who married Martha Boone, and then moved to the Catawissa/Roaring Creek area after it was founded in about 1774.

I think that the L5 (5 pounds British currency) given to Margaret was not an insignificant sum in those days when cAsh was not plentiful. It's not clear how much went to William, who had been ousted from the Society of Friends in 1754 for excessive drinking.

The "...mother Martha Hugh." in this was John's second wife. George's birth mother had been Hannah Boone, but she died early -- when George was only three years old -- and he undoubtedly knew his mother as Martha (Cole) Hugh, John's second wife.

That is how I can trace back as far as I do, and I could easily add thousands of more names.

On another tack, I have in my possession two "patents" (what deeds to land used to be called) one from Ellis Hughes (who married Jane Foulke) to a Mr. Shoemaker, and the other from Mr. Shoemaker to Ellis Hughes (who married Elizabeth Bonsall) regarding the same land.

When I was about ten years old, my grandmother brought out these patents and showed them to me, indicating that they proved she was descended from Ellis Hughes. Unfortunately, she was not descended from the younger Ellis Hughes, who was killed while surveying for a road. His family moved to New Jersey.

Notes for JANE FOULKE:

See [Surce #12] for information on the marriage of Jane and Ellis.

After Ellis' death, Jane (Foulke) Hughes lived with their daughter, Margaret, and son-in-law, Samuel Lee of Oley until she died in 1766. This Samuel Lee is in the ancestry line (via marriages) of Robert E. Lee, the Confederate Civil War General. Ironically, marriages through the Boones also establish a Hughes relationship to Abraham Lincoln. It's doubly ironic, in my view, that these two war leaders, on opposite sides of the U.S.'s greatest war, came from pacifist Quaker roots.

She was one of the nine children who Edward Foulke said escaped the "sore mortality through the favor and mercy of Devine Providence," in his account of the voyage on the Robert and Elizabeth.

EDWARD AND ELEANOR Foulke'S DESCENDANTS

By Susan Foulke Lukens

We have heard this morning of how Edward Foulke, of Wales, came to this country, in 1698, with his wife, Eleanor, and family, and settled here in Gwynedd, with his relatives and friends, to struggle as long as best he might in the then wilderness. His heart no doubt failed him many times in his struggles, and he must have longed often to be back in his old home, Coed-y-foel, in Wales; but those old Welsh settlers, of whom Edward Foulke was one, had stout hearts, and bore their trials bravely, and history has little to record of them save that they married, raised large families and died. Our ancestor, Edward Foulke, left a brief narrative of his removal and his pedigree, and also an "Exhortation to His Children," and these records have been sufficient to make his name better known than those others who came over with him.

Here at Penllyn, Edward and Eleanor made their home, and in this same home they died. From here their descendants went forth over the land, and to-day they have re-assembled from the north, the south, the east, and the west, to celebrate the two-hundredth anniversary of their ancestors' removal to America.

Edward had several children, and his descendants have been numerous, for while the name of Foulke one hundred years ago was quite a common one in Montgomery County, there are now few of the name left there; and in tracing the family records one finds many of the lines extinct.

Of the nine children of Edward and Eleanor Foulke, the descendants of the sons only are well known, although it is possible that those of the daughters also are represented here to-day. All of the five daughters were married. Gwen married Alexander Edwards and left children, and in the marriage certificate of Alexander Edwards and Gwen Foulke, dated Tenth month, 6th, 1703, her name is given as Gwen Edwards, and her brothers, Thomas, Hugh and Cadwallader signed their names as Thomas Edwards, Hugh Edwards and Cadwallader Edwards respectively. Grace married John Griffith, of Merion, and left issue. Jane married Ellis Hugh, of Gwynedd, and removed with him to Berks County, where they left many descendants.

6. JOHN⁷ HUGH (ELLIS⁶, JOHN⁵, HUGH CADWALLADER⁴ RHYS, CADWALADER AP RHYS AP³ MAREDYDD, RHYS AP², MAREDYDD AP TUDUR OF¹ VOELAS) was born May 19, 1714 in Exeter Township, Philadelphia, PA, and died 1763 in Exeter Township, Berks, PA. He married (1) HANNAH BOONE Oct 30, 1742 in Exeter Township, Philadelphia, PA, daughter of GEORGE BOONE and DEBORAH HOWELL. She was born Sep 20, 1718 in Abington, Philadelphia, PA, and died Jul 08, 1746 in Exeter Township, Berks, PA. He married (2) MARTHA COLES 1748 in Pennsylvania. She was born Abt. 1727 in PA, and died Unknown.

Notes for JOHN HUGH:

Pennsylvania John was the first in our line of Hugheses born on the American continent. His birth in the Gwynedd area in March 1714 appears to have pushed the bounds of propriety, coming as it did just seven and one-half months after his parents marriage. After joining with his family's move to the Oley Valley in 1731, John married Hannah Boone in November 1742. Twenty two year-old Hannah was one of George Boone's daughters, and a first cousin to Daniel Boone. John and Hanna had two children before she died in March 1746. John's second marriage was to Martha Cole.

It is not clear that farming was this second John's main source of income in Oley valley. Although a landowner, maps show that he also owned a tavern and a tannery.

John's relationship to George Boone, his first father-in-law, led him into positions of responsibility in the local Oley Valley government during the last 12 years of his life. George Boone was Oley Valley's first Justice of the Peace, appointed in 1728. Justice of the Peace was the most powerful local official, supervising the other county and township officers, in addition to serving as judge in the legal system. George Boone also was instrumental in bringing a petition to the Philadelphia County court in 1741 to create Exeter Township, so named after the Boones' home in Exeter, Devonshire, England. John thus became part of a local Boone political network in the 1750's and 1760's during which Boones and Boone relations dominated county and provincial assembly offices. John served as Berks County Collector of Excise during 1752 -1763 and as a County Commissioner from 1762 until he died in 1764.

John died in March 1764 at age 49 (almost 50), and was buried at the Exeter Meeting House burial ground, according to Quaker records. John left no will when he died, leading me to believe that his death was sudden and unexpected. In December 1766, his son George petitioned the Orphan's Court of Philadelphia County to divide his father's estate in Exeter Township. The estate consisted of about 190 acres, and was ordered divided "according to the value." In addition to George, the heirs including George's sister, Jane (Hughes) Boone, and some younger half sisters from John's second marriage.

Samuel Lee is in the ancestry line (via marriages) of Robert E. Lee, the Confederate Civil War General. Ironically, marriages through the Boones also establish a Hughes relationship to Abraham Lincoln. It's doubly ironic, in my view, that these two war leaders, on opposite sides of the U.S.'s greatest war, came from pacifist Quaker roots.

I have in my possession two "patents" (what deeds to land used to be called) one from Ellis Hughes (who married Jane Foulke) to a Mr. Shoemaker, and the other from Mr. Shoemaker to Ellis Hughes (who married Elizabeth Bonsall) regarding the same land.

When I was about ten years old, my grandmother brought out these patents and showed them to me, indicating that they proved she was descended from Ellis Hughes. Unfortunately, she was not descended from the younger Ellis Hughes, who was killed while surveying for a road. His family moved to New Jersey.

He married WILLIAMINA M. UNKNOWN Abt. 1811. She was born Feb 24, 1787 in Pennsylvania, and died Mar 06, 1857 in Danville, Montour, PA.

Notes for ELLIS HUGHES:

It is conjecture that this Ellis Hughes is the son of William and Mary:

1790 census for Northumberland shows William with one male over 16 and two males under 16.

The 1800 census for Catawissa shows 1 male 10-16 and 1 male over 45.)

Ellis came to Danville as a school teacher and taught in the schoolhouse where the "Montour House" later stood. He was also a surveyor and was appointed register and recorder by the governor. Ellis was a good teacher and was universally respected by the community. He also took care to see that his children were well educated. He was a faithful member and an efficient officer in the Methodist church. He served to the entire satisfaction of the public. A survey map of Danville by Ellis Hughs is in the "Danville Bicentennial Book".

History of Columbia an Montour Counties, Pennsylvania, by J. H. Battle [Source #2] Samuel Kirkham, assisted by Ellis Hughes, wrote his English Grammer while teaching in the Danville school. Ellis Hughes was permanently settled here; his reputation was that of the best educated man ever in the county up to that time. He came from Catawissa in 1820; he was a good surveyor as well as a teacher; he was appointed register and recorder by the governor for the new county of Columbia. A schoolhouse that he taught in some years stood near the Montour House, nearly on the spot now occupied by the Record office.. He filled with distinction many places of public trust during his life. He died in 1850. His descendants are some of the most respected citizens of Danville.

Obit, Danville Intelligencer, Friday, March 22, 1850:

In this place, on Sunday last, Mr. Ellis Hughes, in the 64th year of his age. Much might be written as a tribute to the memory of the deceased, but the living exhibition of his many superior excellence, has so deeply impressed all who knew him that nothing which the Writer might add could serve to increase the ? and permancy of those impressions. The deceased was a worthy member of the Methodist-Episcopal Church. On Tuesday, his remains were interred in the Mahoning Burial Ground. Pease to his Ashes.

Notes for GEORGE HAMILTON HUGHES:
OBITUARY: "Listowel Banner" January 13, 1898.

"On Saturday morning last George Hughes, who for nearly thirteen years has been a highly respected resident of this section of country, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. John Ballard, where he has made his home since he has lived here. He was in the 86th year of his age and for the past few years has not enjoyed good health although he was able to be about until two weeks ago. The old gentleman was of Quaker stock and was a notable example of the kindly disposition, the quiet even temperament and intelligence characteristic of his people. He lived through some of the most stirring scenes of Canadian history and was himself and his family directly connected therewith. During his residence here he made many warm personal friends who learned to respect and regard him highly. He retained many very vivid recollections of the early days in this country and it was always a pleasure to listen to his intelligent accounts of his experiences. As his end approached. He was quite ready for the release and even desired to be at rest. A little over six years ago on the occasion of his 79th birthday he drew up a short outline of the principal events in his life. Though this was evidently not intended for publication it is an interesting record, part of which is quoted below. It was written before the death of his wife who died in Walkerton about four years ago, and his son Mr. R.B. Hughes of Walkerton has also died since the sketch was written. Among other things he says:

I was born April the 18th A.D., at Hughesville, in Roaring Creek Valley, Pennsylvania. The names of my father and mother were Jeremiah and Sarah Hughes who were members of the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers. Our school privileges at this early date were very limited indeed, our would-be teachers would canvass the neighbourhood to see how many scholars he could obtain for the winter quarter, then he could tell how much to charge per head. He would have to board around amongst his employers according to the number sent. These schools were generally kept open three months in the year, so that what we learnt this winter would be forgotten by the next. The above has reference to country schools, not quite as bad in towns. At the age of 17 I left my dear old home, first I went to Mauch Chunk a small town on the Lehigh River, this is a great coal town the mines are nine miles from the town and river. I went to this town to learn to work iron under a triphammer, but this business soon closed, then I went to Catawissa to learn blacksmithing; served my apprenticeship for three years, then went back to Mauch Chunk and worked at my trade during the summer of 1832; went home in the fall and went to school during the winter months and returned in the spring again to my former place. In the fall of 1833 I came to Canada to see a sister and several uncles, aunts and cousins. My sister came to Canada a few years before me and was married to one Samuel Davis who had a wheelwright at Brownsville, now Schomberg, Township King, County York. He persuaded me to put up a shop beside him and start my trade. I got to be quite an expert in ironing wagons and Scotch ploughs. Here I worked for a little more than 2 years then I married my present wife, daughter of the late Benjamin and Mary Hawk. We have always kept up our New Years anniversary wedding day since, holding pleasant family re-unions. We moved to the Township of Wellesley, then called Queen's bush, in 1847 where Mr. John Hawk built a mill and laid out a village called Hawksville. Here I bought 150 acres of land and cleared up a farm and here I put in many a hard days work, cleared in 3 years 60 acres and built two barns, besides working considerable at my trade. In the fall of 1875 I sold all my property and on the 23rd May 1876 we moved to Norwich. Here I bought a house and two or three lots and afterwards built a new house more to our liking. Here we lived for eight years, but my wife's health becoming so poor we concluded to break up house keeping, and moved here to Listowel on 14th of May, 1885. We are now boarding with our oldest daughter, Eliza Ballard, and husband and live very Comfortably. Five years ago we celebrated our golden wedding with all our children and their companions with us and had a pleasant time. We had four sons and two daughters that grew up to be men and women. Our son-in-law and wife bought this farm adjoining the corporation of Listowel a little more than one year before we came to live with them. I helped them build a house suitable for themselves and us to live in.

Now I want to show what changes have taken place since I first came to Canada in 1833. At this time there was not a mile of railroad in Canada or the States except the little one from the mines to the river at Mauch Chunk. Little York had just changed its name to Toronto. At this time the only village north of Toronto was Newmarket with a population perhaps of 150 or 200 at most. Our north western country at this early date was scarcely known, only as the Hudson Bay Country; and now Ontario has rail roads running in every direction, and many thousand miles in operation - my age at this writing April 18th 1891 is 79 years.

Geo. Hughes

P.S. My wife and I have lived together a little over 55 years. G.H.

Notes for ROBERT BARCLAY HUGHES:

!OBITUARY: "Listowel Banner" May 5, 1895.

"Few events have occurred in Walkerton that have called forth such general expressions of sadness as the death of Mr. R.B. Hughes. For some years he has not been very rugged but his indomitable will and great energy caused him to make light of his trouble and attend to his ordinary business. About four months ago he spent some time at Battle Creek Sanitorium, Mich., and considered that he was much improved by the treatment. He struggled bravely against growing weakness until Saturday his friends were telegraphed for and it was expected that a few hours would tell the tale. His wonderful vitality surprised every one and it was not until Thursday evening that the end came. He suffered from a complication of diseases.

The deceased was the son of Mr. Geo. Hughes, of Listowel, and was born in the Township of Wellesley, Waterloo County, on December 14th, 1848. He received his early education in the public schools of his native township and the Berlin high school. He chose the dentist's profession and after going through the regular course took the degree of L.D.S. with honors in the spring of 1873. Shortly afterwards he located in Walkerton where for 22 years he enjoyed an extensive and lucrative practice. In October, 1874, he married Jennie, daughter of Mr. James Blair, who with four children - two sons and two daughters - are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father and husband. Two brothers - Mr. J.B. Hughes, Fire Inspector, Waterloo, and Mr. Frank Hughes, dentist, Galt, two sisters - Mrs. Ballard, Listowel, and Mrs. Lount, Walkerton, and his aged father survive him.

The funeral on Sunday was conducted by the A.F. & A.M., and the A.O.U.W., and was very largely attended.

Mr. Hughes was a man whom to know was to respect, and the better he was known the more he was thought of. His straightforward method of business combined with his generous and self-sacrificing disposition made him a general favourite. Like charity he thought no evil and had always a good word for everyone. He was skilled in his profession and always enjoyed an extensive practice. He took great interest in outdoor sports but particularly in curling. At the last annual meeting of the club he was elected president, but his impaired health prevented him taking an active interest in the game. As a skip he had few equals and his prowess on the ice was known all over the province. For two years he sat as a member of the town council, being elected by acclamation, but his inclination did not run in that line and he declined further honours. Altogether he was a model citizen and his loss to the town will be severely felt."

OBITUARY: "Listowel Standard" February 12, 1909.

"Death of Mrs. Ballard - The sad news reached town yesterday morning that Mrs. Ballard, relict of the late John Ballard, had died in Galt Hospital, where she had gone to undergo an operation. Mrs. Ballard left here with her daughter, Miss Minta, last week, and the operation was performed on Tuesday morning this week by Dr. Hawke, the Hospital surgeon, who is a nephew of the deceased, Dr. Rutherford of Stratford and Dr. Nichol of town assisting. The patient had been in poor health for some time, and although the operation for removing gall stones was successful, the kidneys were so affected as to hold out little hope of recovery. The deceased's brother, Mr. J. Hughes of Berlin, and sister, Mrs. Lount, also her eldest daughter, Miss Annie Ballard, who has lately returned from the west, were in Galt during the operation. The remains were expected to arrive home last evening, and the funeral will take place from the late residence, Wallace Street, on Saturday afternoon ! at 2:30, to Fairview Cemetery."

Notes for THOMAS HUGHES:

Mrs. Hughes was the widow of Hon. Thomas Hughes, a civil war veteran, who was, for many years, city clerk, county treasurer, and state senator here. He was a native of Pennsylvania and came here fourscore years ago, and became head of Iowa City's second newspaper. He was in the senate when the Old Capitol was alive with the law-making activities of Iowa.

OBITUARY: "Iowa City Daily Republican" March 12, 1881.

"At half-past seven o'clock last evening, Friday, March 11, Mr. Thomas Hughes passed peacefully into rest. Mr. Hughes was born in Danville, Columbia county, Pennsylvania, September, 1814. He worked at the printing trade in Danville and afterwards at Hamilton's and Porter's offices in Harrisburg. He was also employed at Sherman's office in Philadelphia. On October 27th, 1838, Mr. Hughes crossed the frontier line, the Mississippi, at Davenport. In November of the same year Mr. Hughes went to Burlington in an open wagon, there being no wagon road or even trails. In Burlington he was employed upon the "Territorial Gazette" which was published by a personal friend, Mr. James Clark. In 1839, he left Burlington and went to Dubuque where he was engaged upon the "News." In 1840, Mr. Hughes began the publication of the "Herald" in Bloomington. Mr. Russell an editor of considerable talent was connected with Mr. Hughes in this enterprise. Mr. Hughes came to Iowa City in September, 1842, and was connected with the "Standard." In 1844, he sold out his paper here and returned to Pennsylvania, but soon returned and took charge of his old office for his former partner Williams. In 1846 he was elected to the first State Senate and was president of that body at its extra session. At the call of his country he entered her service, was taken prisoner and spent 14 months in a prison pen in Texas, so exposed to the fierce heats of that region that his health was shattered. One of the last prisoners to be released, he came home to suffer and to linger after upon the very borders of the grave.

Mr. Hughes for many years has been one of the best known and familiar figures in the city. He has been recognized as authority on all points relating to city laws, finance, etc. Although enfeebled in health, his eminent fitness for the position caused his retention in the office of City Clerk and death found him still at that post.

A good citizen, a kind neighbor, a devoted husband and father has laid aside a weakened and suffering body, that he may be clothed upon from above.

The time of the funeral can not be determined upon until word can be received from his absent children."

OBITUARY: "Iowa City Daily Republican" March 15, 1881.

"The funeral of Hon. Thomas Hughes took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence on North Capitol street. The Odd Fellows had the ceremony in charge as Mr. Hughes had been a member of that organization for many years. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends."

NEWS ITEM: "Iowa City Daily Republican" March 14, 1881.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and a copy be furnished the papers of the city."

Hughes, Thomas

Rank: Lt.; Quartermaster

Regiment: 28th Iowa Infantry Regiment (1862-1865)

Service: 1862 October 10-1865 July 31

Background note:

Thomas Hughes, a Lieutenant in the 28th Iowa Infantry Regiment, was in many Ways, an atypical soldier for the Union army. At 48, he was older than most soldiers, he served in a regiment that never ventured further east than Mississippi, and he served as a quartermaster. Serving in Arkansas, the Vicksburg Campaign, on garrison duty in Louisiana, in the Red River Campaign, and in Texas, Hughes saw some of the toughest service in the war and served through some of the worst conditions Civil War soldiers had to face.

Throughout, there can be no doubt of Hughes' unwavering pro-Union sympathies. While serving in Arkansas, he witnessed the destruction of a small town by Union troops in retribution for a sniping incident. Although admitting that his opinions might sound extreme to people at home, Hughes defended the destruction, arguing that "we must have this river a safe highway while we are upon its borders -- And I believe the Military Commanders have at last determined to have it so, at the sacrifice of every town upon its banks from Cairo to New Orleans if that is necessary. And I must say that I fully endorse the determination."

At times, though, it seemed to Hughes as if he spent more time fighting the elements than fighting the Confederacy. From Arkansas to Louisiana, the regiment plopped down in mudhole after mudhole, under a seemingly constant deluge of rain. These conditions were only made worse by the bouts of hunger and getting robbed in his sleep by a fellow soldier. Nor could his family offer much Comfort, for their finances were a constant source of worry. A daughter, Delia, helped out by bringing in 'scholars' to teach, Hughes' wife took on boarders, and his son, Ellis, left college to work (though Ellis claimed that college was nothing but 'humbug').

Hughes distinguished himself at the Battle of Mansfield in April, 1864, aiding a wounded officer from the field, and returning in an attempt to locate more ammunition for his regiment. He was surrounded by Confederate soldiers and, in what Hughes considered a cowardly act, shot at and struck with the butt of a rifle. Only the intervention of a rebel Colonel prevented him from being more seriously assaulted, and the colonel subsequently provided Hughes with personal protection on the march to prison, "though during the ride to Mansfield he had to cock his gun three times to do so." Hughes was kept a prisoner at Camp Ford, near Tyler, Texas, and was still held there at the end of November, 1864.

Scope and Contents:

Hughes was an unusually fine writer. The eleven letters in this collection, ten of which are addressed to his wife, contain some excellent descriptions of the efforts of an older soldier to cope with the harsh conditions of life in the western theatre. His relations with his family, close, but strained by financial hardship and separation, are particularly noteworthy, as are his mundane accounts of living in the mud and staving off hunger. He also provides an excellent account of an artillery barrage during the siege of Vicksburg, and his account of his participation and capture in the Battle of Mansfield is vivid.

TRANSCRIPTION

Camp Ford Feb. 9th 1865.
Col. C. C. Dwight, Com. Of Exchange

Sir: I take the liberty to address you in behalf of Lieut. W. J. Srofe and myself. We were captured with our Regt. At the battle of Mansfield La., April 8th 1864, and taken to this place. We did not think that there was any prospect of exchange last summer, so on the 20th day of August last, we made our escape from here and started for Little Rock. It being the nearest from here to our lines. When within 40 or 80 miles from Little Rock, we were recaptured by the enemy's pickets and taken to Camden, Ark. Where we were kept until Sept. 30th, when with a number of other prisoners we were sent back to this place. On the 9th of October, we passed our Rgt. near Shreveport. They were on their way to our lines for exchange. I made an effort to be sent on with them, but could get no hearing. When we arrived here the Col. Comd'g the Prison said that we would be considered prisoners from the date of our recapture, the 2nd of Sept. Which will make us the latest captured prisoners in the Department. Capt Birchard the paroling officer has informed us that we have forfeited our claim to an exchange until all the other prisoners here are exchanged. They say that this is the only way they have of punishing us for running away. What I ask of you is that you will be so kind and make a request for us to be sent forward at the next exchange that takes place. If it is not done, we will undoubtedly be kept until the last man here has been exchanged, which I think will be doing us great injustice if our Authorities let the Rebs have their own way about it. Hoping that you will give my request a favorable hearing, I remain your

From the OFFICIAL RECORDS: Series 2, vol 8, Part 1 (Prisoners of War):

CAMP OF NATIONAL PRISONERS,
Near Tyler, Tex., February 11, 1865.

Major General E. R. S. CANBY,
Commanding Military Division of West Mississippi:

GENERAL: The undersigned, officers of the U. S. Army, held as prisoners of war at this camp, take the liberty of addressing you, desiring to call your attention to the fact that there are officers of our army now held at this place and at the guard-house in Shreveport who we are assured are held by the Confederate authorities as punishment for attempting to escape to our own lines. We have always supposed that it was the right and duty of a prisoner of war to make his own escape when possible, and that it was contrary to all rules and usages of civilized warfare to punish him for so doing. Major Bering and Lieutenant Srofe, of the Forty-eight Ohio Infantry, are among the oldest prisoners in camp. They were in Shreveport when their regiment passed through Shreveport for exchange in October last. Major McCauley, of the First Indiana [Cavalry], and Lieutenants Fleming and Fulton, of the Seventy-seventh Ohio Infantry, are now and have been for some time in the guard-house at Shreveport for attempting to escape. Their regiments are now going forward for exchange, but the agent of exchange refuses to send them forward. Being the oldest prisoners here we expected to have gone on this exchange, as we supposed it was the rule of our Government to exchange the oldest captures first, but, as it seems not to be, we would endeavor to exchange ourselves, cheerfully undergoing all the hardships and dangers of an attempt to travel some 400 miles through the enemy's country were we assured that we would be protected in so doing by our authorities. It is poor encouragement if we know that when recaptured and our regiments are exchanged we are retained in prison. We are sure it is only necessary to call your attention to the matter to have it corrected. We shall look anxiously for the action of our Government in the cases referred to.

Respectfully,

J. A. Bering, major Forty-eighth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry; William Prescott, captain, One hundred and thirtieth Illinois Volunteers; John W. 1895 Iowa State Census: Louisa K. Hughes, 71, W, MD, Johnson, Iowa City Iowa

OBITUARY: "Iowa City Republican" September 1, 1902.

"Mrs. Louise K. Hughes died Sunday morning at her home on Capitol street at 4:30 o'clock after an illness of but a few hours. The funeral announcement will be made later.

In Memoriam

Louise Catherine Frances King was born in Baltimore in 1823. She came in early life to Dubuque, where in 1841 she was married to Thomas Hughes. After a short stay in Muscatine the young couple came to Iowa City and in the second year of their married life, established themselves in North Capitol St. Of the four children, Delia, now Mrs. James Gow, of Greenfield, Iowa; Ellis, of Portland, Oregon; Annie and Louise, all but the first were born in this house and all grew to manhood and womanhood in it.

From the first Mr. Hughes was prominent in political life and the home soon became the center of that rare hospitality and friendliness which has distinguished it for nearly sixty years. Members of the first legislature, state officials and townspeople, if living, can recall the kind and gracious entertaining of the young matron.

Later, when the opening of the University showed a lack of homes for the young people who came to it, and because of this lack, Mrs. Hughes opened her house to them, and a long succession of young men and women reckon among the pleasantest memories of their school life the years spent under her care.

The death of Mr. Hughes in 1881, and the Accident which a few months later left her unable to walk for the rest of her life, it might have seemed would end the fullness of living which was so characteristic of Mrs. Hughes. Had she only been concerned, it might have been so, but from this time on, more than ever, she lived for others. She came out of seclusion with a long sorrow and a burden of physical pain never quite lifted and often intense, but with a fixed purpose that neither should cloud the lives of others. How well this purpose was carried out her children and her many friends can testify.

Of her rare personality it is difficult to speak in fitting terms. One feels what one cannot always put into words. The term "friendliness" in the beginning was used advisedly - it represents her. Her friends were of all classes and ages and she was never happier than in making them happy. She especially loved little children as their grief on hearing of her death bears witness. More than one house which she had never been able to enter mourns for her today. Her church, though deprived of her presence for so many years, was helped by prayer and by work, and her pastor must often have found inspiration in her sweet and patient waiting.

To voice the grief of those taken into her heart of hearts, beyond those nearest to her, her family and the devoted band to which her home has been for years a shrine, as it were, is impossible. Even one who did not know her personally, said, "I shall so miss her face at the window as I pass." The face at the window, the voice, the clasp of the hands - those busy hands - are gone, but the greatest of all remains for "Love lives on and hath a power to bless When they who loved are hidden in the grave."

The end came as she would have wished. With full mental vigor, with joy in living still strong, after only a few hours of suffering she passed from the sheltering love of this life into the wider love, the closer shelter beyond."

- iv. ANNA G. HUGHES, b. Nov 20, 1851, Iowa; d. Mar 1923, Iowa City, Iowa.

Notes for ANNA G. HUGHES:

OBITUARY: "Iowa City Press-Citizen" March 29, 1923.

"Miss Annie G. Hughes passed away yesterday afternoon at 2:45 at her home, 122 No. Capital street.

She was stricken by paralysis Monday, after an illness of a week's duration, during which she was bed-ridden. Following the passing of midnight, she lapsed into unconsciousness very early Tuesday morning, and never rallied.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence.

Miss Hughes was born in that house 71 years ago, Nov. 20, 1851, and passed her entire life there save one year in Pennsylvania.

Surviving is her sister, Miss Louise E. Hughes, one of the ablest and best-loved of Iowa City's educators, many grateful pupils recalling the days when she was principal of the Iowa City high school. Likewise mourning are Mrs. L.S. Peek, of Fontanelle, Iowa, and Mrs. C.H. Martin, of Washington, D.C., who are nieces, and numerous other relatives, whose ties are less immediate. In the household, during the last 38 years, also lived, as one of the family, Miss Clara Kutscher, a true and faithful friend.

Miss Hughes was a member of the Presbyterian church, many years and was one of its most active and efficient workers, in the various fields of Presbyterian service.

She was also a member of the Women's Improvement league, the King's Daughters and the Elder Daughters of the University.

Despite this noteworthy service in the field of endeavor, her home life was specifically beautiful. It was particularly characterized by her love, fidelity, and devotion to her venerable mother, whom she cared for throughout 21 years, following the fall that left that good woman afflicted during more than the score of years that lapsed, until the end came.

Mrs. Hughes was the widow of Hon. Thomas Hughes, a civil war veteran, who was, for many years, city clerk, county treasurer, and state senator here. He was a native of Pennsylvania and came here fourscore years ago, and became head of Iowa City's second newspaper. He was in the senate when the Old Capitol was alive with the law-making activities of Iowa.

His home, thanks to the superb hospitality, and gracious winsomeness of his estimable wife, was the center of the social life of Iowa in its territorial days, and after statehood came, for there assembled the law-makers and other distinguished guests again and again, finding a host and hostess, whose lamp of welcome and entertainment never grew dim.

Thus, throughout the early years, the home became synonymous with hospitality, and in the years that followed, the reputation a well-loved "mother in Israel" had established was maintained by the daughter, who inherited and maintained the power to open wide the doors to good friends and true and yet, in other circles, to give freely of her best, in time, and energy for the noble causes of church humanity and civic betterment.

Miss Annie Hughes sleeps, but her cherished memory will abide forever in the hearts of a legion of loyal friends."

- v. LOUISE E. HUGHES, b. Nov 27, 1855, Iowa; d. Aug 1935, Iowa City, Iowa.

He married LAURA JANE WINN Mar 09, 1859 in Waterloo, daughter of JOSHUA WINN and MARY UNKNOWN. She was born Mar 02, 1834, and died Jul 19, 1926.

Notes for JEREMIAH BOONE HUGHES:

Waterloo and the county suffered the loss of one of its oldest and most prominent personages in the death of Mr. Jeremiah B. Hughes, which took place about six o'clock on Thursday evening at his home on George Street. Deceased had been in declining health for several months owing to his extreme age, but it was only two weeks ago that he was compelled to take to his bed. Since then his remarkable constitution became weaker until he passed away surrounded by the members of his family. His death removed one of the landmarks of Waterloo and he will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends who enjoyed his acquaintance and unusual social qualities. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the late residence to Mount Hope Cemetery.

The late Jeremiah B. Hughes was born on September 28th, 1836, in the village of Brownsville (now Schomberg), King's Township, York County, and was therefore in his 85th year. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes, and a direct descendant of William Hughes, who accompanied William Penn, with a number of brother Quakers on Penn's second voyage to America. His father was born in Hughesville, Pennsylvania, in 1811. He was a blacksmith and moved with his family from Brownsville to Hawkesville, Wellesley Township, when the deceased was but 11 years of age. A farm was purchased to which many acres were added when the Government finally decided to grant "squatters' rights" on the old Clergy Reserve land, a portion of which lay in Wellesley Township.

There was no school in Hawkesville in the days when the Hughes family migrated from York County, but through the efforts of the elder Hughes, who donated an acre of land at the corner of his farm for the purpose, a school house, which has long since been destroyed, was built. It was in this school that the deceased received his education. After leaving school he started life as a blacksmith, learning the trade from his father. He continued at this until he was 27 years of age, when he assumed charge of his father's farm for a period of four years.

About fifty-six years ago the deceased moved to Waterloo and entered career as an insurance man. After acting as an agent for the Waterloo Mutual Fire Insurance Company for a number of years he was appointed an inspector, which office he held for a period of twelve years. It was while he was connected with this company that his suggestion that the mutual insurance idea be applied to life as well as fire risks was acted upon and resulted in the founding of the Mutual Life Assurance Co., of Canada, whose head offices are in Waterloo. About thirty years ago he became connected with the Aetna Fire Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. as Inspector and during recent years has been the special agent of the Company in Canada. He was known in all parts of Canada as one of the pioneer insurance men of the country, and for years has been the oldest insurance adjuster in the Dominion.

During his residence in Waterloo for over half a century the late Mr. Hughes always took a keen interest in its welfare. He was a member of the town council for a number of years, and in 1898 was mayor of the municipality. He was a life-Long member of the Board of Trade and was an ex-president. He also took a great interest in the Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital, and was a faithful and useful member of the board for a score of years, eight of which he served as president. He retired two years ago and was honored with the office of Honorary President.

In politics Mr. Hughes was a Liberal, and for many years was the president of the North Waterloo Reform Association. He was married in 1848 to Laura J. Winn, daughter of the late Joshua and Mary Winn, of Wellesley Township, who survives and is in her 88th year. One son, Dr. Fred G., and one daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Clayton Wells, also survive. Another daughter, Miss Laura, died a few years ago. The sympathy of a wide circle of friends will be extended to the bereaved wife and children in the loss they have sustained."
